

Conference Overview

The Annual Conference on Adolescent Health brings together an interdisciplinary community of health care professionals to share research and best practices aimed at improving adolescent-centered care. The Conference hosts a growing number of health care professionals from nearly 50 states and a growing international community. The fully virtual event in 2021 brought together 875 attendees.

This year's event will be held on Aug 11-12, 2022.

The Adolescent Health Initiative (AHI) is working to plan an event that best meets the needs of the adolescent health community. In efforts to best support the diverse experiences of the attendee base, AHI will be offering virtual and in-person options for the event. The in-person portion of the event will be held at the Ann Arbor Marriott Ypsilanti at Eagle Crest.

A primary goal of the Conference is to amplify youth voice and experience. More than half of the sessions at the event are co-facilitated by youth, and the planning of the Conference is guided by AHI's Teen Advisory Council (TAC TAC).

Attendees of the event are from a variety of professional fields, including, but not limited to, physicians, nurses, social workers, health educators, health center staff, coordinators, and students. AHI welcomes youth to the Annual Conference and encourages participation in sessions, feedback, and networking with other professionals and youth, including TAC TAC.

Please note: The Annual Conference on Adolescent Health is guided by the values of expertise, innovation, and diversity, equity, and inclusion. A major tenant of the Conference is preparing health care professionals to better support adolescents and young adults across, and within, their identities. The AHI Team works to ensure that all presenters promote evidence-based practice and prioritize care for youth across a wide spectrum of identities. This includes, but is not limited to, lesbian, gay, bisexual, queer, transgender and non-binary youth, youth across intersecting racial and ethnic identities and experiences, migrant youth, young people across socioeconomic statuses, system-involved youth, young people from all religious backgrounds, expectant or parenting teens, adolescents that have disabilities or identify as disabled, and any other identity marker that impacts a young person's experience as it relates to health.

Types of Proposals

The 2022 Conference on Adolescent Health is accepting submissions to present breakout sessions, oral presentations, and poster presentations. Applicants are welcome to submit multiple proposals and have the opportunity within the submission form to indicate if they are interested in presenting in more than one format.

- A Breakout Session is a 60-minute presentation, that may be repeated, which includes audience interaction and/or discussion. Breakout Sessions should enhance the skills and knowledge of a multidisciplinary audience of adolescent health professionals. We are hoping to provide a mix of introductory and advanced content.

- An Oral Presentation is a 15-minute presentation with 5 minutes for questions. These sessions are intended to share innovative research, practices, and programs. Works in progress that will be completed by the Conference date can be submitted.
- A Poster Presentation is intended to share innovative research, practice, or programs. Works in progress that will be completed by the Conference date can be submitted.

All applicants will be asked to identify the primary categories that their presentation is associated with. These categories include Community Based Interventions, Mental Health, Primary Care, School-Based Health, and Sexual Health.

The following questions will be asked in the submission survey for all sessions:

1. Presenter contact and organization information
2. How would you like to present your session?
 - I would like to present this session in-person
 - I would like to present this session virtually
 - I could present this session virtually or in-person

Information Needed for Submission of Breakout Sessions

The following questions will be asked in the submission survey for breakout sessions:

1. Title of Breakout Session
2. Description: please describe the content of this session and its relevance to adolescent health professionals (1500 characters or less).
3. Short Description: this description will be shared with attendees and used for marketing purposes (300 characters or less).
4. Learning Objectives: list three learning objectives for participants in your session. Learning objectives should describe in measurable terms what you expect participants to take away from this session and should complete this statement: "On the completion of this session, the participants will be able to..."
5. Identify the primary audience of this session. Check all that apply:
 - Behavioral Health Provider (MSW, PhD, LPC, other)
 - Health Care Staff (MA, CHW, Health Center Administrator, Quality Assurance, other)
 - Health Educator
 - Medical Providers (MD, NP, PA, RD, RN)
 - Other Public Health Professional
 - Youth
 - Other (please specify):
6. Identify the anticipated knowledge level for the audience of this session:
 - a. Beginner (will cover basic concepts)
 - b. Intermediate (some baseline participant knowledge recommended)
 - c. Advanced (more in-depth participant knowledge recommended)
7. Please list any content warnings associated with your presentation
8. Explain how you will use the 60-minute time and engage the audience specifically for a live or virtual session. Examples include discussion, interactive presentation techniques, quizzes, and Q&A.

9. AHI prioritizes youth engagement in the Annual Conference, ensuring that more than half of sessions are co-facilitated by youth. If your session lends itself to co-facilitation, AHI has resources on how Conference presenters can meaningfully involve youth. AHI will compensate each youth presenter $50. Do you plan to involve youth in your breakout session?
10. If yes* to the previous question, please share your initial thoughts on how you will engage youth. Please also note how you would approach youth engagement for your presentation format specifically (virtual, in person, or either.)
11. If no* to the previous question, please explain why.
