

Intentional youth-adult partnerships are necessary when preparing presentations that center youth voice. Young people can bring theory to life when they have the support and tools to share their lived experiences in affirming environments. We invite you to join us for our upcoming Twitter Chat on Centering Youth Voice in Youth/Adult Partnerships and Presentations, set to be held on Wednesday, March 29 at 1:00 PM EST. Share your best practices on effective youth-adult partnerships and learn from the many youth-serving organizations doing this work.

This Twitter Chat will serve as a live Q&A session. We will ask a series of questions about centering youth voice in youth/adult partnerships and presentations using the hashtag #AHI2023. As you consider each question, we encourage you to share links, resources, and tag other youth-serving organizations in your responses. To participate, please post your answer and include #AHI2023. This filters all tweets to appear in one conversation.

IMPORTANT DETAILS

- Wednesday, March 29, 2023, from 1:00 PM-2:00 PM EST
- Host: Adolescent Health Initiative (AHI) @Adolescent\_Hlth
- Co-hosted by: ETR (@ETRorg), Healthy Teen Network (@healthyteen), and AMAZE (@amazeorg)
- Hashtag: #AHI2023
- Pre-made graphics to promote the event (and your participation) on social media

Example:

Q1: Hi, what is your name? #AHI2023

A1: My name is JD, and I am with the Adolescent Health Initiative. #AHI2023

**Note: There is a five-minute period between each question. Please use this time to submit responses.*

Questions:

1. Welcome to AHI’s Twitter Chat, Centering Youth Voice in Youth/Adult Partnerships and Presentations. Who is joining us? Introduce yourself by sharing your name, pronouns, organization, and field of practice. #AHI2023
2. What is the best youth-partnered presentation you have attended, and why was it impactful? #AHI2023
3. How do you avoid tokenization in youth/adult partnerships, especially in presentations? #AHI2023
4. What should you consider when recruiting youth to partner on a project or presentation? #AHI2023
5. How can you center diverse identities in youth/adult partnerships? #AHI2023
6. How can you center accessibility needs in youth/adult partnerships? #AHI2023
7. What are some strategies for centering racial justice when partnering with youth on presentations? #AHI2023
8. How can you ensure a safe environment when partnering with young people? #AHI2023
9. How can you identify funds to compensate the youth you wish to partner with? #AHI2023
10. What strategies have you found effective when creating communication workflows between young people and adults? #AHI2023
11. If your organization is speaking at #AHI2023 this year, please share with us what you will be presenting on.
12. Know anyone who would be interested in attending the Conference? Early bird rates for #AHI2023 close this Friday, March 31! Tag three colleagues below and use discount code TWEET2023 for 10% off the event.